Private Tour of Indian Deccani Painting Exhibition

Tuesday 31 January 2012, 9:30 Coffee, 10:00 Curator-led tour

Dulwich Picture Gallery, Gallery Road, London, SE21 7AD

Ragamala, generally described as 'music-inspired painting', is one of the most charming and popular genres of north Indian and Deccani painting. This exhibition, one of the first to be dedicated solely to the ragamala theme, displays a rare and unique grouping of miniatures from the Claudio Moscatelli collection. Asia House Patrons will join DPG Patrons for a private curator-led tour of this unique exhibition.

Premiere Screening of Wang Xiao-Shai's 11 Flowers and VIP Reception

Cine Lumiere, 17 Queensberry Place, London SW7 2DT

Sunday 18 March 2012

By the director of Beijing Bicycle, this semi-autobiographical story is set in the rural Guizhou Province in the latter days of the Cultural Revolution. This is a warm coming of age tale, infused with symbolic resonances of the bridge between childhood and adulthood, memories of the past and human relationships.
