

Asia House is an independent think tank and advisory service. We work with companies and governments in Asia, the Middle East and Europe, facilitating high-level dialogue, providing business and market intelligence, and driving commercial outcomes.

Asia House is looking for a graphic designer for three research reports written by the Asia House Fellows. Their research will be published and distributed by Asia House to its wide network of senior business and policy figures, and we are seeking for a designer to professionally design these reports. A brand guideline will be provided, and candidates must adhere to the guide. Any pictures for the reports will be provided.

This is a great opportunity for anyone looking to expand their skill set and if successful there might be future opportunities to work with us.

The ideal candidate will:

- Be fluent in Adobe Creative Suite specifically in InDesign
- Be creative
- Have a high attention to detail
- Understanding of resolution and file formats as these reports might be printed
- Have past experience in designing reports or similar
- Have the ability to meet tight deadlines
- Create charts/graphs with the data provided via Excel
- Knowledge of branding and how to create cohesive designs that represent a brand
- Ability to articulate design ideas and listen to our feedback

This position is hybrid.

Fee: £1,000

Location: Hybrid
